INFORMATION

During a pandemic, you will need to implement additional measures to minimize the transmission of the virus, particularly high use surfaces (e.g. sinks, disinfectant handles, swings, toys, tables and benches etc.). Transmission from contaminated hard surfaces is unlikely but influenza viruses may live up to two days on such surfaces.

Influenza viruses are deactivated by alcohol and chlorine. Cleaning of environmental surfaces with a neutral detergent followed by a disinfectant solution is recommended. Surfaces that are frequently touched with hands should be cleaned often, preferably daily.

While we have taken all care in preparing this checklist, we do not represent that it meets all the health and safety requirements or guidelines in any jurisdiction. You are urged to take your own professional advice to ensure that you comply with the obligations that apply to you.
